Recollections

Graduation ties us to the future;
But what about our past?
What is there in these years gone by
That will forever last?
From this journey we have finished,
What will remain that can not perish?
Why that which lives in memory,
Among the souvenirs we cherish!
Every facet of our high school past,
Shall bear a special meaning;
Photographs and symbols, too,
Shall set our memories gleaming.
May we face the future with expectations,
And relinquish all our fears;
And continue striving toward the goals,
We have outlined in these years!
The moments that we shared, the lessons
By which we were enlightened;
Each molding factor casts a light,
And makes our guideposts brightened.
So, too, the warm friendships we held,
And the many ventures we made,
Enable us, once more, to face the future
Secure and unafraid.
Our varying interests and ambitions
Shall lead us to different trades,
And in the course of seeking these,
We will have gone our separate ways.
But no matter where life finds us,
Throughout the coming years:
These moments to remember will be
Among our souvenirs.

ZEALE

DEDICATION

Ever since the dawn of time, man has sought direction. This seeking has led him to explore himself, the world around him, and now, outer space.

Through the expert guidance of trained personnel, students attending Paramus High School have been successfully directed along the road to graduation to reach their goals by following the guideposts set up by the Guidance Department.

Without the untiring efforts of each counselor, these students would not have been able to achieve their purpose so smoothly.

To thank each member personally for the kind and thoughtful help he or she has offered, we, the Class of '62, proudly dedicate this third volume of the Delphian to the Guidance Department of Paramus High School.

Membership on a Board of Education is one of the most important positions in our Democracy. It is a distinction and an honor to help formulate the educational policy affecting the most valuable property of our Democracy — our children. But with this distinction goes the grave responsibility of seeing that the school system operates for the benefit, both educationally and socially, of all the children.

Paramus Board of Education members can well be proud of their service to our schools. It is evident that their decisions are thoughtfully made with the betterment of the children of our community uppermost in their minds. Citizens of Paramus are ever mindful and, we are sure, appreciative of the manner in which our Board faithfully serves the school and community.

—Wesley Van Pelt,
Secretary and Business Manager,
Paramus Board of Education.

In Memoriam

In recognition of his untiring efforts to help promote the welfare of our school and the Board of Education, we gratefully acknowledge Dr. Wesley Rogler's unselfish services.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Allen Felix, Ronald Mastralia, Walter Wittman, Clifford Steele.

Able Administrator . . .

Mr. George W. Hodgins

Our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. George W. Hodgins, has very capably guided the Paramus schools for more than a decade from a small beginning to the large complex system of today.

Each new issue of the Delphian marks another year in the short but eventful history of Paramus High School. This year is particularly memorable for all of us since it is highlighted by the accreditation of Paramus High School by the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges which indicates that our school is recognized for the high quality of its educational program. Our rapidly changing democracy calls for vigorous accomplishment of the type that is evident among our staff and pupils. It is my hope that Paramus High School students will always have a proper concern for excellence and will fully realize the contribution that education must make in the development of the individual and the nation.

The energetic members of the yearbook staff have combined their efforts to record the varied activities which contribute toward the fullest development of our school group. Paramus is proud of the Delphian.

—George W. Hodgins,
Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Wesley Van Pelt

As Secretary to the Board of Education and Business Manager of the Paramus Schools, Mr. Wesley Van Pelt has an exacting but important position which he performs with complete mastery and great skill.

And Assistants.

Mr. Lincoln Koenig

With his headquarters in the Board of Education Office, Mr. Lincoln Koenig, as Director of Maintenance of the Paramus Public School System, is responsible for the upkeep of all school buildings and property in the high school and throughout the system.

Mr. Ralph J. Mele

As Mr. Hodgins' Assistant, Mr. Ralph J. Mele has charge of student transportation and prepares for publication of the Board of Education's Newsletter, which acquaints the public with the latest information concerning school regulations.

Souvenirs serve as reminders of memorable occasions and places. They come to life readily when we can associate them with people. While reviewing all the chronology of the 1961-62 school year in Paramus High as presented by picture and prose, I suggest you study the people to get the true flavor of our school.

Souvenirs have different connotations to different people just as high school experiences have had different meaning to each of us. It is the hope of the professional staff that there has been sufficient breadth of experience offered in our school program to have meaning for each individual student. Our goals for all are the same — to develop each person to his capacity intellectually, socially, and physically during his adolescent years and to provide a base for his continuing development in his adult years. The interaction of knowledge, training and experience, one fulfilling the other, and the integration of all learning into improved personal and group living constitute a measure of true educational achievement. Each of us gains this fulfillment in a unique way.

In the years to come, I trust that the people, places, and events portrayed in the Delphian will become more and more meaningful, especially to the members of the Class of 1962. Their contributions to all of us in Paramus High School have been many and their development as individuals and as a group have been very satisfying. Their future should be rewarding.

Mr. Richard Webster, Vice-Principal, is in charge of discipline and reads the announcements every morning over the public address system.

During the 4th and 5th periods every day the most popular place in the school is the cafeteria. Students may purchase a hot lunch as well as sandwiches and individual dishes. Ice cream and milk complete the menu to make a full selection of foods possible.

Since the program is subsidized, the prices are well within the range of the students. Our dining room is staffed by a manager, chefs, servers, and cashiers. Boys, working in twenty-minute shifts, help wash dishes for which they in turn receive their lunch.

On many occasions the facilities of the cafeteria have been used by outside groups and organizations.

Ever present but working almost unnoticed to help keep our high standards of orderliness is our efficient custodial staff. In addition to servicing the school plant, these members maintain the thirty-four acre campus with excellent care. Rightfully they have earned the title of "Guardians of the Grounds."

With many activities and events in and out of school, the staff must be on duty almost continuously. Without their help, we would not have such a fine, well kept school of which to be so justifiably proud.

Imagination constitutes a vital part of the English program. Whether engaged in reading, writing, or reciting, a student may employ an active imagination as a valuable aid in conjuring up images and impressions. Definitely an asset to creative writing, inspiration is thus afforded an ample opportunity to develop to full capacity. Students are taught to utilize and appreciate the various channels of expression. Oral reports and discussions provide excellent opportunities for the techniques of effective speech and communication to be mastered, as well as for the gaining of poise and self-reliance. For those who desire a more intensive study of speech fundamentals and related arts, our English curriculum offers a two-year program in this field.

Another essential to the English studies is the introduction to the art media. Students are encouraged to frequent theater productions and ballets, and to participate in class productions of both original and adapted scripts. Our highly capable instructors have emphasized the value of widening our reading scopes and expanding our word knowledge.

Men whose minds and deeds have shaped the history of past generations, and those whose influence is molding the face of today's world are sources of interest and delight for the students engrossed in the expansive Social Studies program. In addition to the study of two years of American History, the Department offers courses in the related areas of sociology, comparative world governments, and economic geography. While each course is a distinct study in itself, it shares a common likeness with the others; and that is, its deep concern for people, places, and philosophies.

Geographical, social, and cultural factors from the far corners of the earth play a vital role in aiding students to obtain realistic perspectives of the issues at hand.

By examining the philosophies which have been adopted as the basis of laws, governmental statutes, and international policies, students are encouraged to cultivate open minds. Through the media of audio-visual aids, speakers, and evening seminars, the goal of a well informed student body is made possible.

Consisting of twelve individual booths and a one channel console, this new equipment is ideal for practicing skills in listening and recording. Science is a way of thinking and acting as well as a field of research and history. Self-directed activities are encouraged and an emphasis is placed upon an application of the concepts and on a provision for a working knowledge of the theories and principles which are fundamental to a study of any science.

Branches which are offered include biology for sophomores, chemistry for juniors, physical science for juniors and seniors, and physics for seniors. Work is planned to provide explanations and challenges at all levels but accelerated courses are available to students of greater interest or ability.

This year a new activity has been started by the science department. Students presented original projects based on independent research which counted as extra credit toward the student's grade. This science convention will no doubt become an annual affair.

Today's highly technical and scientific world has brought out a greater emphasis on the understanding and applications of mathematics. Our proficient staff offers courses to prepare students to meet the challenges of the careers in which mathematics plays such a decisive role. Students' interests are often directed by the career on which they are focusing their future, and thus the curriculum they follow is determined on this basis. Those entering the commercial fields are offered excellent courses in general and business math. Industrial arts students are provided with expert training in shop math and mechanical drawing. Included in the program is a senior refresher course in mathematics for those desiring a review of the fundamentals before leaving high school.

College bound students have found the advanced program of two and a half years of algebra, followed by a year of plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, or calculus, to be a challenging and rewarding experience. Students in this program, participate in the Math League of Bergen County.

Classroom observers are sure to find students eagerly tackling the proofs and problems outlined on the blackboards. Our math instructors have been successful in encouraging a better understanding of the principles of mathematics, owing to their extensive backgrounds and abilities to present solutions and explanations clearly and comprehensively.

Teaching by machines has been introduced on an experimental basis this year. In addition, films have been used in algebra classes to supplement the classroom instruction.

To prepare students to enter the commercial field, the Business Education Department offers the necessary skills and studies.

Students interested in these fundamentals enroll in the General Business curriculum. Courses in typewriting and stenography are the stepping stones to success when future business workers take Secretarial Practice.

Office Practice includes the operation of business machines which aid students who wish to continue their study of bookkeeping and related office skills.

One of the features of our business program is the Distributive Education course. In this subject, seniors who have completed Salesmanship and Commercial Law as juniors, go out on jobs as part of the required work of the course. Two periods each day are devoted to the study of merchandising to enable the student to succeed in his afternoon job.

Creative Arts is an area having three main fields, fine arts, home economics, and industrial arts, which offer students many and varied selections.

Providing a wide choice of programs, the Fine Arts Department emphasizes techniques, design, color and self-expression used in pastels, water colors, oils, costume designing, architecture, jewelry making, pottery, ceramics, and leather work. Offered as a minor and a major, the former meets two periods a week and serves as a developmental hobby-type activity, while the latter allows the students to delve deeper into the finer principles and techniques of art.

Proper Training . . . For the Body . . .

As part of the physical education curriculum the driver education course offers students on-the-road training. Meeting once a week, all juniors take a classroom course during which time they learn the fundamentals of the automobile, safe driving habits, and correct attitudes. They also are given a chance to take the official written test for their driver's licenses in school.

Students who are 16½ years of age and who have free time may take driving lessons in one of the two dual-controlled cars donated by a local automobile agency. In approximately nine weeks most of the students are able to finish the six hour program. This affords reduced insurance premiums to students successfully completing the instructions in driver training.

Paramus High School's Department of Physical Education endorses the national program of conditioning our students to a well-rounded curriculum of good health and physical fitness.

This year, as a new experiment, co-ed folk dancing was instituted for one week. Folk dancing proved to be so enjoyable that it helped to promote the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Each student has physical education at least four times a week and has the convenience of a large gym, an auxiliary gym, the best equipment and an adequately supplied athletic field.

Sophomores have one period of health a week; juniors have driver education; seniors have physical education five days a week and one marking period out of the year they have family living which consists of discussions of topics relating to the various aspects of adult life.

This year the Choir presented a special assembly at Westbrook Junior High and for the first time joined with the band for a holiday program "Sounds of Christmas."

Our marchers participated in the Memorial Day and Fourth of July Parades and this year proved to be one of the most popular entries in "The Record" Band Pageant.

Another first was accomplished this year when the Band and the Concert Choir joined to provide a memorable Christmas Concert. Centrally located, the library is opened before, during, and after school, thus providing students with the opportunity to do research and recreational reading.

Miss Carney, ably assisted by Mrs. Serrao, works diligently to help students find the necessary materials for their research papers, book reports and reviews, and pleasure reading. Holidays and special events are fittingly celebrated with exhibits in the various showcases throughout the school.

More and more teachers are using the reserve shelf to set aside reference works which they want their students to use in reading and writing special reports. When students need material not readily available, the librarian secures the necessary books from the local and state libraries.

In cooperation with the Student Council the librarian has set up a memorial shelf to honor deceased students. With allotted funds the library has purchased books which have appropriate name plates in them to commemorate the memory of these students.

Working with our principal, the Program Committee helps to plan the meetings of the high school parents. "Back to School Night", a session on mathematics, and a discussion on the problems which arise between parents and students have been held. As a final meeting in April, the pressing problem "After Graduation, What?" was discussed.

Activities

Student Council . . . Of the Students . . .

W. Schwarz, corresponding secretary; L. Dunn, president; S. Lane, vice-president; J. Calabrese, recording secretary; D. Dziuna, treasurer.

As the hub of all activity, the Student Council has energized every facet of our school life. With the encouragement of its sponsor, Mrs. Nigro, the Council has revised its methods of operation and added to its efficiency. Homeroom periods have been extended, when expedient, to enable representatives to give a full account of current problems and accomplishments. Election procedures were amended to incorporate new ideas in selecting officers.

Before school closed last June, the Sophomore Class Committee met with Mr. De Francis and members of the American Field Services to lay the foundation for initiating the Foreign Exchange program. Harmina Joosten was selected as our first guest from a foreign country.

Several new committees were formed, one of which developed plans for an all-school carnival to be held in March. "Mardi Gras" was decided upon as the theme for this gala event of the year.

As the voice of the people, the Chariot continues to express the varied opinions and reactions of students in all phases of school activity.

Several new features have been added this year to increase coverage and arouse interest. Among these additions are "Biene's Byline," written by our exchange student from the Netherlands, and "Kim's Korner," a series of letters from Kim Hung Kil, our foster child.

Membership in the SPANJ (Scholastic Press Association of New Jersey) affords the staff an opportunity to share ideas and to evaluate their journalistic endeavors.

Advisers, Miss Bishar, Miss Bremus, and Mr. Rapp, assist in maintaining a high journalistic standard as well as clarity and simplicity of style in the school newspaper.

Once more having won a first-place rating in the annual yearbook evaluations of both Columbia University and the University of Minnesota's School of Journalism, the Delphian Staff has worked harmoniously to produce another award-winning treasure chest of memories.

This year Mr. Boyce has assumed responsibility for managing the momentous task of compiling our much cherished annual. He is capably assisted by Mrs. Kaestner of the Art Department, and Mrs. Gibson and Mr. Haug of the Business Department.

To record in words and pictures the people and their activities during a school year requires a full staff of diligent workers. Meeting deadlines, scheduling pictures, writing running heads, identifying underclassmen, and selling ads are some of the areas that a busy yearbook staff must learn to manage in order to produce the Delphian.

The Keystone Privilege . . . Membership in the Honor Society.

Character, scholarship, leadership, and service are the four criteria upon which selection for the George W. Hodgins Chapter of the National Honor Society is based. Students are chosen during the latter half of their junior year, and are again eligible during their senior year for membership in this highly selective service organization. To be eligible a student must be in the top ten per cent of his class, possess an outstanding character, and have a record of service and leadership in our school and the community.

This year the Honor Society has expanded the scope of its activities to include managing a book store, holding a used-book sale, offering student tutoring service, and occupying a booth in the carnival. Highlighting the year is the induction ceremony and reception for parents, friends, and school officials.

Library . . . Literature . . . Learning.

Our ever-popular library is capably managed by Miss Carney, the school librarian. She is assisted by our well-trained Library Council. Among the various functions performed by this group are the processing and charging of books and the care of the library's desk and shelves.

At Christmas time, the Library Council beautifies the Student Commons by gayly decorating the tree. They also are responsible for displays in various show-cases throughout the school.

Paramus High's Library Council played host to the first annual meeting of the Bergen County Library Councils. At this meeting Mr. C. Boland, an author from Doubleday, spoke to the Councils about his recent book, They All Discovered America, and offered a copy to be added to our growing collection.

Visual Aids . . . By Sight . . . By Sound.

One of the most active service organizations is the Audio-Visual Aids Club under the expert direction of Mr. Jankelunas.

With an efficient staff, the club strives to assist teachers in setting up programs and operating the school facilities which include cameras, projectors, sound systems, tape recorders, and two television receivers. These television sets were very effectively used when the student body viewed the historical launching of our country's first orbital flight into space.

Daily throughout the school, members may be seen pushing movie projectors from the audio-visual room to the various classes.

It is their duty to see that the regulations concerning the student parking area, and the faculty parking area are not violated. Constant flow of traffic during the bus pick-up and discharge periods is maintained by our Campus Patrol.

Service . . . Sociability . . . Stewardship.

Our Tri-Hi-Y is a member of the national organization for high school girls. Service and sociability are the two main functions of this school club. Among its other objectives are: learning to accept responsibility, gaining a clearer spiritual outlook and acquiring a better understanding of people. Services that the club renders to the school and community include selling refreshments at home basketball games, serving as usherettes at school functions, assisting in local charity drives, distributing canned food to the needy, and sponsoring a dance each year, the proceeds of which go to the Student Council. Members had the opportunity of visiting the United Nations building and their correspondence with a French girl is helping them to learn about and understand other people in the world. All these activities serve to benefit each girl as well as the school and community.

Future Teachers of America . . . Dedication . . . Enthusiasm . . .

Through the William V. Dunn Chapter of the Future Teachers of America, Miss Filippone and Mrs. Colnaghi encourage students to enter the teaching profession.

One of the most important activities of this club is the service offered through the Teachers' Aide Program. Students, working with the teachers, learn the various aspects of this program by teaching a class, making lesson plans, and marking papers.

Guest speakers, film strips, and college trips are discussed at the regular meetings. Our first annual dance each school year is planned by The Future Teachers. These students render an invaluable service to their school, their classmates, and themselves.

Regular meetings are devoted to having stimulating discussions on the various aspects of the normal and abnormal behavior patterns of human development. Students become acquainted with the famous men and their theories in the field of psychology.

In addition to these meetings the Psychology Club plans visits to local institutions to gain a deeper insight into the complex problems of mental diseases.

Gun Club . . . Arms and the Man.

All students having an interest in firearms and ballistics have found an opportunity to add to their stock of knowledge about guns. Mr. Fritzinger, who has made a hobby of collecting guns for many years, has organized this newest club with the purpose of instructing the members in the history and the proper care of small arms.

When the fundamentals have been mastered, the members hope to demonstrate their ability and learning by actual participation in the latest sport in Paramus High.

In this program, the Leaders' Club still maintains its goals and objectives by emphasizing the active participation of all PHS girls. Everyone is provided with the chance to derive wholesome enjoyment from membership in this organization.

For safety measures and to get in condition for skiing during the winter months, the club is the host in this area for pre-skiing exercises.

Joint day-trips are being arranged with other schools and a five-day ski excursion was planned for the Christmas vacation. This year during the Christmas vacation, nine members and three adults, including the club's adviser, Miss Freeman, went on a trip to Kimo Mountain in Vermont.

Gymnastics Club . . . Acrobatics . . . Handsprings . . . Workouts.

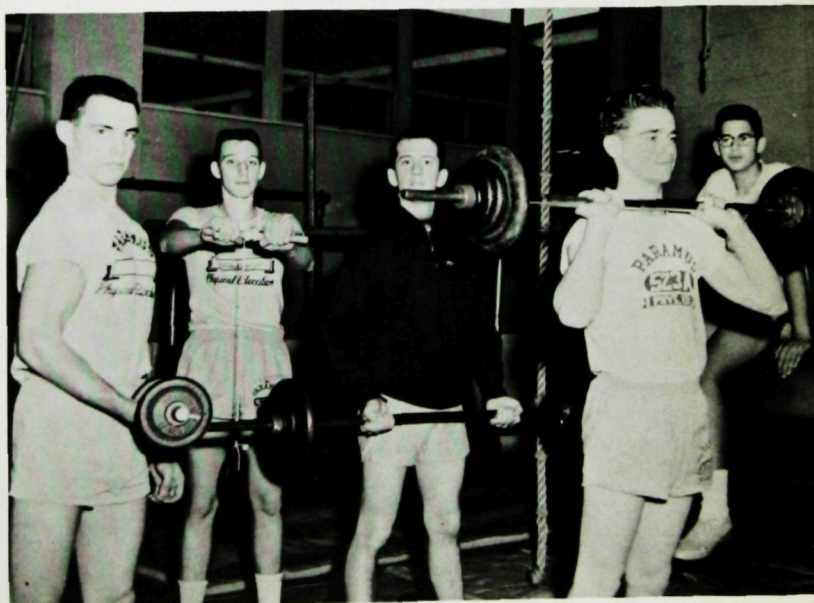

Limiting membership to boys only, the Gymnastics Club endeavors to promote a keener appreciation of physical culture. Mr. James Morganti, dramatics' director, staged the elaborate production which featured stunning sets, effective lighting and background music, colorful costumes, plus a well-chosen cast of forty-five members.

Finishing its last season as an independent school the Paramus Spartans prepared to enter the N.N.J.I.L. with a fine season and a respectable record behind them.

Losing only to powerful Englewood (7-2) and Pascack Valley (8-1) and suffering a heartbreaking last minute loss at the hand of Mahwah, Coach Bill Peck's boys showed they are going to be a challenging threat to the coveted N.N.J.I.L. crown next year.

Co-captain Bob Woardell's fine defense and co-captain Sal Rotolo and senior halfback Paul Tashian's strong offense paved the way for the Spartans' six victories.

Well-conditioned and coached by Bill Peck and his man

"Friday" John De Gasperis, the Spartans showed an excellently balanced attack all year. Backing up the seniors were juniors John Bouranel (quarterback), Al Kuebler (fullback), Jim Carpenter (center), Butch Turner (guard), Mike Capitman (tackle), and Dave Landau (end).

Some sophomores who will be seen quite often in the future are Howie Behnke, Rich Trinchieri, Jerry Giampetruzzi, Frank Rulli, and Bob Reme.

After avenging several of the loses suffered last year, including a Thanksgiving Day 28-6 victory over Lodi, the Spartans will open the gridiron season next year in the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League, thus offering a strong opposition to our opponents in contending for the championship trophy.

Paul Tashian (21) cuts around the end while Bob Woardell blocks the opponent.

Completing its season in a thrilling hard fought game in the finals of the State Soccer Tournament, Coach Ernie Unger's boys closed out a fine year.

In only its second season the soccer team members can be proud of the splendid way they handled themselves in each and every game as they finished fifth in the County and tied for fifth place in their first season against N.N.J.I.L. competition.

Starting practically from scratch with only a few men returning from last year's squad, Coach Unger built his team into a well-balanced, state-title contender.

Much to everyone's surprise and delight the team went on to a good season led by three outstanding players — Rich Schiesswohl, who placed high among the N.N.J.I.L. scorers, and was named to be first team all county, Chuck Price, and Barry Behnke, who were placed on the second team all county.

Getting off to a great start, the team fell into a little lapse and lost three straight games to the top three teams in the County, but finished in fine form showing a 9-7-3 record and losing to Summit in the state tournament final game in a double overtime period.

Next year the Spartans hope to capture the N.N.J.I.L. title as well as making another fine showing for the State title.

Paul Pecoraro attempts a goal as Bob Riedel leaps over Rich Schiesswohl.

N. J. State Championship Meet (group III) — Passaic Valley 65, Rancocas Valley 94, Hanover Park 119, Paramus 154.

As the Cross Country season came to an end the Paramus Harriers were proud of an excellent season whose high accomplishments speak for themselves.

Coach Al De Filippo can be proud of his "charges" who finished the season with a dual meet competition record of eleven wins and only three defeats, and took second place in its first season in the tough N.N.J.I.L. They also finished third in the County Championship Meet, and came in fourth in the coveted New Jersey State Meet.

The Spartans achieved their great season through the hard work of all the team members. After a heartbreaking one point defeat at the hands of arch-rival Bergen Catholic, the team scored 9 straight victories. Included in this string was a victory over Bogota, which ended their 22 game winning streak and their only loss.

Usually seen ahead of the pack on the 2½ mile tour of the course was Senior Captain George Downs who turned in an outstanding last season as a Spartan Harrier.

Backing up Downs were Juniors Ray Pompilio, Jim O'Shea, Craig Smith, and John Robinson. Pompilio and Smith finished second and fourth in the seventh meet, and seventh and thirteenth in the county meet.

After this unprecedented season the Spartan Harriers will be a team to be reckoned with in the future by the N.N.J.I.L. teams and other opponents all over the County.

During the early spring a rash of batons and a flourish of rifles and flags are in evidence around the school, as girls are seen practicing constantly for the twirling and color guard tryouts in May. Following an established routine, the contestants are judged for poise, ability, speed, strut, and audience appeal. As the competition proceeds towards the finals, tension mounts, while each contender strives for a coveted position on these highly selective squads.

After the finals, a head majorette is chosen, and co-captains are elected by the girls. Constant perfecting of their techniques is required in order to maintain these hard-won posts.

Every afternoon during the fall these two groups practice diligently, and at each football half-time the twirlers and color guard perform a special routine with the band.

Miss Bellina and Mr. Drake are responsible for the snappy performances of our high-steppers.

One of the sure signs of spring is the annual cheerleading tryouts. With a burst of energy, the contestants eagerly strive to gain membership in this spirited squad. Tryouts are held on an individual and group basis, and each aspirant is judged on appearance, pep, jumps, voice, attitude, and hand motions. In addition to energizing the crowds at each basketball and football game, the cheerleaders plan and run pep rallies, sell beat tags, and make posters to advertise each athletic event.

Co-Captains Maria Spagnuolo and Barbara Ann Policastri along with several members attended a cheering clinic at which they exchanged ideas and learned new hand motions.

Highlighting their activities, the cheerleaders, under the direction of Miss Bishar and Miss Nardo, sponsor with the lettermen the annual dance "Spotlight on Sports."

Final record — 7 wins, 11 losses

Phil Bibbo

Glenn Yachechak

Starting off the season with only two wins in the first nine games, the situation looked rather dismal for the once powerful Paramus team (17-6 last year), but Coach Herb Hoeland and his two competent assistants, Coaches Kingsley and Brown, put their heads together and came up with a new "fast break" offense and a zone defense. Inaugurating both of these against East Paterson, the Spartans used them the rest of the season with great success.

Although the season was not a complete success as everyone had hoped, the Spartan cagers played exciting basketball throughout the year. Some of the thrilling games and highlights of the season include the following.

Ridgewood Game.

At the hands of Bergen Catholic we suffered a tough, opening-game loss. Next, was the first N.N.J.I.L. basketball game which came against Teaneck. As our vanquishers Teaneck went on to spoil our debut in the League. There followed a thrilling triple overtime loss at the hands of Cliffside Park, one of the Leagues co-champs. But all was not lost, since Lew Halpern led a Spartan attack against Ridgewood with 29 points, which was our initial win in the League. Next time, against the same club, Lew scored 31 points to break the school record. And last, but certainly not least, a thrilling moment came when Jim O'Shea tapped the ball through the hoop with one second to go giving the Spartans a one point upset over Englewood High.

Both for Coach Hoeland and the Spartan fans a bright spot was the great all around play of Junior Lew Halpern. This expert jump shooter averaged 20 points per game and wound up in the top ten scoring leaders of the county. He's a sure bet to make one of the all county teams. But the team was not only composed of just one underclassman. Others who saw a great deal of action were Juniors Jim Carpenter, and Jim O'Shea, and Sophomore Jerry Giampetruzzi.

Seniors who did an excellent job in leading the team during the entire season were Captain Phil Bibbo, Paul Pecoraro, Pete Sabella, Jim Shenkberger and John Lo Pinto.

Everybody will be expecting a tremendous season from the Spartans next year and are hoping they can capture their first N.N.J.I.L. crown.

Completing its second year of competition, the Paramus Wrestling Team can be proud of an accomplished season even though its record was only 5 wins against 6 setbacks.

Our Spartan grapplers got off to a slow start but managed to finish the season in fine fashion as they took their last 4 out of 5 meets, including an impressive victory over Ridgewood.

In competition for the district titles the Spartans took third place. Nine Spartan grapplers reached the semi-finals and two went on to win their titles.

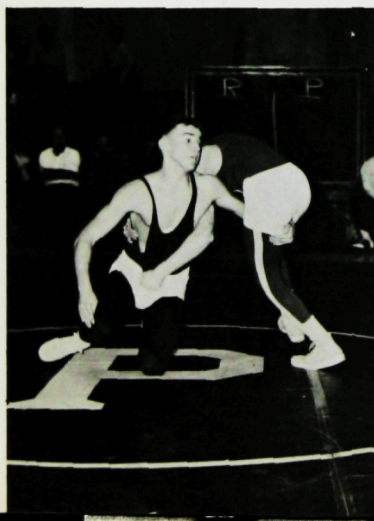

As all had hoped and expected, Dennis Kocse won the finals in the 106 pound class. Al Kuebler's victory in the 168 pound class was a big surprise but a pleasant one to Coach Newell. To gain his title Al had to beat County Champ, Ed Ponzini, the favorite.

Losing only its senior captains, Ron Manning (178 lbs.) and Paul Tashian (157 lbs.), the wrestling team will be looking forward to a great season next year. Al Kuebler (168 lbs.) and Bruce Forest (121 lbs.) are the newly elected captains.

Tennis . . . Serving . . . Swinging . . . Slamming.

Tennis, a challenging sport, requires skill and stamina to be played well. Mr. John Le Rose judged these skills in each of the forty boys who tried out for the team. From this group he chose the ones that would make the best showing for Paramus High. Coach Le Rose now has the assignment of making tough league contenders out of the new tennis players.

Tennis will be inaugurated this spring at Paramus High School with Van Saun Park as our home court. Our Spartans will operate on a tight schedule playing against some of the more established teams in the area. Sportsmanship, competition, and fair play, the fine points of any game, will be brought out in those who participate.

Everyone is looking forward to another first at P.H.S.

Spring weather, the harbinger of a much anticipated baseball season, arrives with Varsity Coach Kingsley and Junior Varsity Coach Hoeland putting the pitchers and catchers through their usual opening season drills. By the middle of March the practice schedule is fully launched and the whole team is out on the field.

Spartans will explore their first season of league competition this year. They are expected to achieve success if they follow the footsteps of the 1961 team. Our '61 varsity outfit capped a good season with victories in the county and state tournaments.

This year the team is comprised mainly of "rookies," but our Spartans will depend on strong defense tactics to win games. They will use the strategy of "old style" baseball, that is, running and bunting more than usual.

John Lo Pinto, Jim Sherkberger; Co-Captains, Paul Pecoraro, Bob Woardell.

When boys are seen running, jumping, or disc throwing, they can be participating in one and only one sport, track.

In 1961 the track men proved their abilities in the numerous events by turning in a fine season. Led by the excellent coaching of Lou Lonzalotto and Assistant Coach Al De Filippo, the Spartan cindermen, in addition to scoring well in post season meets, walked off with several medals.

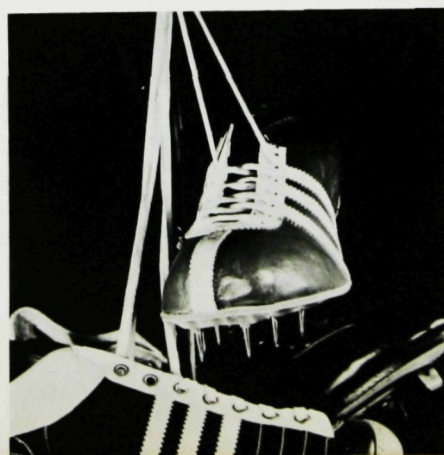

Track takes a great deal of vigorous training each day. This year's practice will be twice as rigorous, for the boys want to strengthen their chances in the N.N.J.I.L. Our cindermen are looking forward to a successful season in the League.

Intramurals . . . Physical Fitness

Girls' Intramurals include a variety of sports to all who are interested. Not only are hockey, basketball, softball, and track emphasized, but also lacrosse, badminton, volleyball, tennis, and even folk dancing are offered.

Playdays and sportsdays are frequently arranged with neighboring schools. Here many friends are made, since the main objective is to display good sportsmanship by playing to learn, not to win.

All who participate in this program benefit from the guidance of our instructors and from the assistance of the Leaders' Club.

"Walkin' and Whistlin'" are J. Yaged, B. Cortazzo, J. Hirschi, and C. Stanley.

An action shot caught during boys' intramurals.

President Kennedy has stated that not enough of the people of the United States are taking part in various physical activities.

At Paramus all boys have the opportunity to participate in the activity of their choice because of the intramural program offered. Some of the sports available to P.H.S. boys include football, soccer, weight lifting, table tennis, basketball, softball, and track.

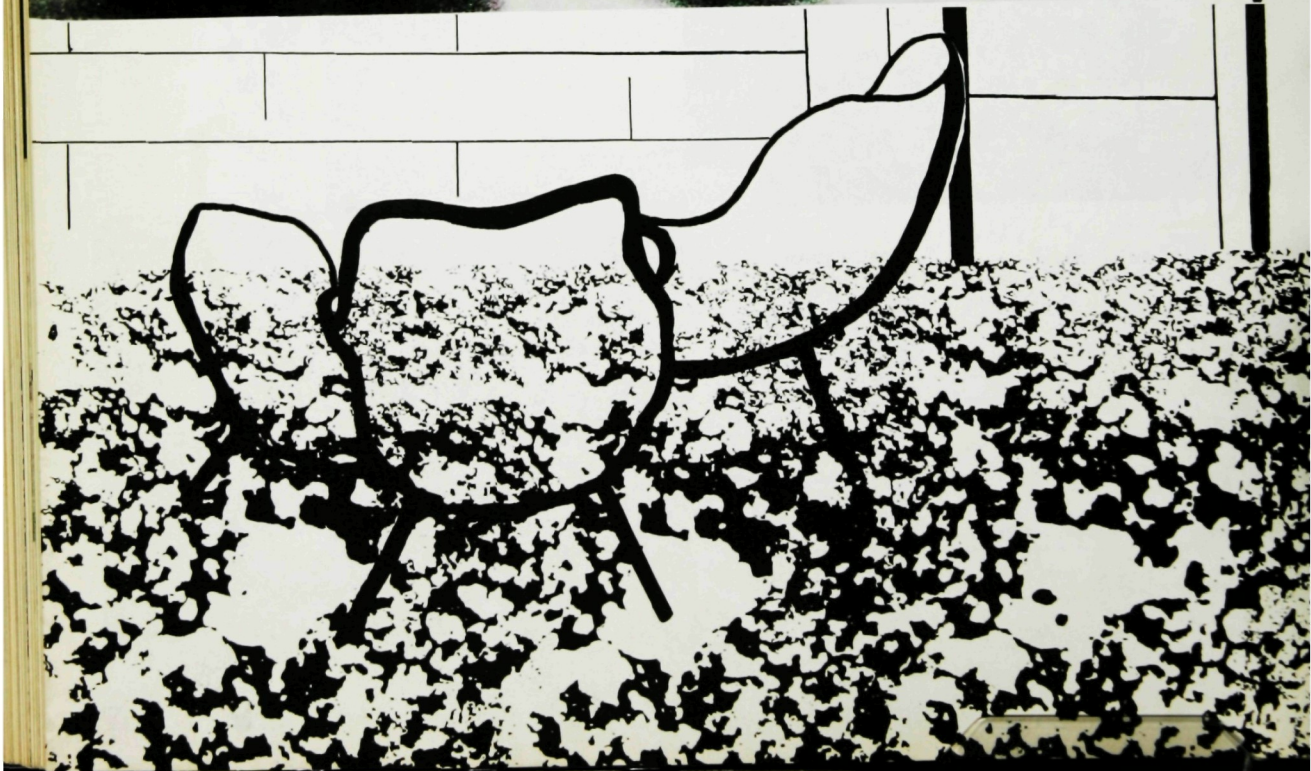

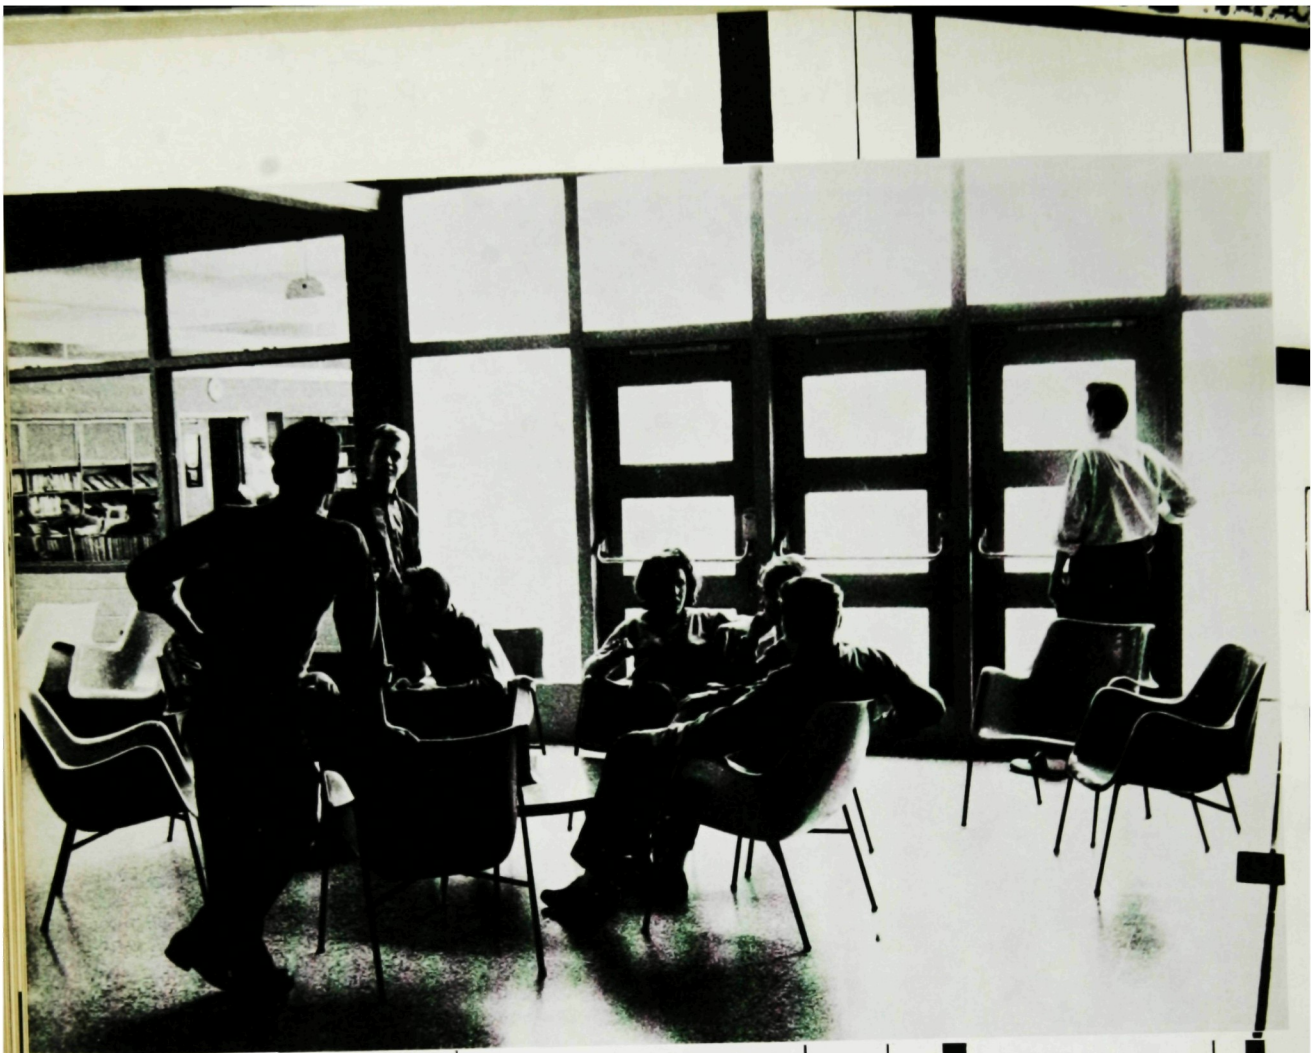

Mr. Kingsley, Mr. Hoeland, Mr. De Gasperis, and Mr. Peck supervise these activities which place the emphasis on participation, not on ability.

Epilogue
To My Memory Book

Every book tells a story;
Some of fame, some of glory;
Plots may vary, settings too;—
This one involves all of you.
Between two covers neatly bound,
Four years growth can be found.
Each year brought us nearer our goal;
And prepared us fully for our role.
As each page I unfold,
Golden memories I behold.
Faces, places, friends, and teachers;
Letter sweaters, crowded bleachers;
Tests, desks, books and knowledge;
Business, Home Ec., Arts, or College;
Meetings, concerts, trips and plays;
Classroom lessons, and bright displays;
Lunch hour, lockers, campaigns, and elections;
Noisy halls, and book inspections;
The list continues; it knows no bounds;
Told in colors, words, and sounds;
For each of us it holds a measure
Of joys that only we can treasure.
From this book, our wish be read—
A prologue to bright years ahead!
